

What's happening in 2017:-

This year, 2017, is the 21st Anniversary of the Studebaker Owners Club UK, and all this year's events can be found on the Events - Future page of this website. The Rally of the Giants at Blenheim on the 9th July is the big club meet, and it would be great to see as many members, and their cars as possible this anniversary year.

Richard Atkinson has advised that the SOC UK has been accepted to participate at this year's Lancaster Classic Car Show at the NEC, as an exhibiting car club. The Show runs from Friday 10th to Sunday 12th November 2017. He writes that this is the UK's premier classic car show and a great opportunity for us to show the brand and hopefully deliver a good experience too. More details later, but we now know that the Club will be sharing a stand with the Chevrolet Owners Club in Hall 5.

The Club now has a Facebook Group, Studebaker Owners Club UK, started by Richard Atkinson with the long term intention to raise the profile of the Studebaker brand and of course the UK Club. It is an open group that everyone is free to join or follow, and to exchange information and share photos etc. There are now 32 members in this Facebook group, it offers a great opportunity to communicate with fellow enthusiasts, and it costs nothing to join!

The 9th September 2017 is Drive Your Studebaker Day, whatever you are doing wherever you are going the aim is to leave your everyday car at home and take the Studebaker out instead. No matter where you go let your pride and joy be seen and admired.
